

CHICAGO RAIL STRIKE LEADERS ARE UNDER ARREST

SOLDIER MADE FATAL LEAP FROM TRAIN AT UNION GROVE TODAY

Pvt. R. N. Tanner Dived from Vestibule of C. & N. W. Passenger.

Private Robert N. Tanner, a first class private in the Medical Corps of the United States Army, leaped from the vestibule of east bound Chicago & Northwestern passenger train No. 22 as it was speeding through the village of Union Grove, four miles west of Morrison, at 4:30 o'clock this morning and received injuries from which he died at 9:30 o'clock. He died without regaining consciousness and papers in his uniform failed to disclose any information concerning him except his name and rank.

Brief particulars left by the train crew when it reported the affair at Morrison, were to the effect that Tanner and a Lieutenant were from some camp in Colorado and were taking a disabled soldier from the camp to his home in the east.

Had Been Sleeping
They stated Tanner had been sleeping, fully dressed, and had suddenly awakened, apparently, and walked toward the rear of the sleeper. When he did not return to his compartment the Pullman porter investigated and broken glass in the vestibule door showed where the man had dived through. By this time the train, which is scheduled to make no stops between Clinton and Chicago, was approaching Morrison, it was stopped and the train crew reported the accident.

The Morrison section crew was at once summoned and sent out to look for the soldier's body, which was found lying partially on the west bound tracks, a short distance east of Union Grove. A physician was summoned and after an examination he pronounced the soldier's injuries fatal, his left shoulder, right leg and skull having been fractured. He was taken to Morrison a short time later, but died without reviving.

Aside from the meager information given by the crew at Morrison the Whiteside county officials have no further details, and Coroner Prye, who will conduct an inquest this afternoon, has notified the War Department officials at Chicago of the tragic death of the young man and has asked further information.

Gasoline Famine in Prospect for Dixon

Dixon now faces a famine of gasoline, unless some action in the railroad strike situation is taken very soon. The Sterling and Polo stations of the Standard Oil company are this morning without any gasoline and other oils are rapidly diminishing in supply with no outlook for replenishment.

Manager Ross Crawford when queried this morning stated that the tanks at the Dixon plant are filled and a good supply of gasoline is on hand. However, it is quite evident with surrounding cities drawing on the local plant for small supplies the stock will soon be diminished and Dixon will join the ranks of numerous other cities that are confronted with a gasoline famine.

Impeachment Plans Withheld in House

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 15.—Plans for introducing a resolution in the house today looking to the impeachment of Assistant Secretary Post of the labor department for his attitude toward deportation of radicals, went suddenly away when the house met today and the resolution, prepared by Representative Hock, Republican, Kansas, was withheld at the request of Republican Floor Leader Mondell.

Speaker Gillette had arranged to recognize Representative Hock for the introduction of the resolution and called on him twice for the purpose. Hock, however, withheld his resolution and Mr. Mondell announced that the Republican leaders wanted to study it further. Hock said he would introduce it later.

A fight on Post has been smoldering in congress for some time. Members have criticized his cancellations of deportation warrants which have been issued after the department of justice has recommended the deportation of radical and field agents of the department of labor have made similar recommendations.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Vladivostok, April 15.—All allied nations are held responsible for the "tragic results of the Japanese attack which yesterday ousted the Russian revolutionary government from control here," says M. Medvedeff, head of the revolutionary regime.

In his protest M. Medvedeff declares he addresses all the allies, as intervention in Siberia was undertaken by him collectively, and he asserts responsibility for the consequences must be shared equally by them. He asks allied diplomats to propose to the Japanese that all Russians under arrest be released, that all government buildings held by Japanese be evacuated, that the Japanese government explain yesterday's attack and offer an apology to the revolutionary government, that Japanese troops cease searching buildings here, and that arms forcibly taken from Russians be returned.

Appointment of an inter-allied commission including Russians and Japanese to conduct an unprejudicated investigation of the case and circumstances of recent events in this city is requested, and allied diplomats are asked to inform their home governments of this action.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Sheriff Littine said that during the night Miller confessed to beating the South girl over the head with a revolver at a lonely spot near the girl's home at Adena, O. He told the sheriff he killed the girl because of something she had said while he was keeping company with her sister.

Miller told Sheriff Littine that his conscience bothered him so that he had to make a confession to relieve his peace of mind.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Kewanee, Ill., April 15.—Five hundred Illinois reserve militia men took over control of Kewanee streets at 6 o'clock this morning and dispersed groups of striking workmen, loitering near the Walworth Manufacturing company's plant, scene of yesterday's riot. No trouble was encountered.

Adjutant General Dickson took personal charge of the situation. The Chicago troop trains arrived at 3 a. m., and the men marched to the state armory, where headquarters were established.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Kewanee, Ill., April 15.—Two battalions of the Eleventh Illinois infantry, strengthened by a machine gun company patrolled the streets today to prevent a recurrence of scattering disturbances which broke out yesterday between strikers and "loyal" employees of the Walworth Manufacturing company.

Machine guns were placed at strategic points when Sheriff Sam Wilson warned Lieutenant Colonel William Swanson, in command of the troops that he feared an attempt by strikers to force an entrance to the company's plant to drive out workers who reported today.

The troops, numbering 600 were sent from Chicago last night after appeals from county officials were received.

Two hundred women, wives and sympathizers of the strikers attacked 800 workmen with bricks and stones when they left the plant yesterday. A number of the workers received injuries and several women were trampled under foot.

Three hundred reserve deputy sheriffs were called and quelled the disturbance.

One deputy sheriff was seriously injured yesterday when 500 strikers charged employees entering the gates of the plant.

Radical agitators are blamed by Kewanee officials for inciting the strikers.

Three thousand employees of the plant went on strike on March 15, demanding recognition of the union and increased pay. About half of the strikers returned to work on April 7 arousing bitter feeling which resulted in the outbreak yesterday.

GOVERNMENT IN FIRST STEP TO ERADICATE REDS

Warrants Issued for 24 Chicago Strike Directors.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, April 15.—Six officials of the "outlaw" railway unions were arrested this morning by United States marshals on warrants issued by United States Commissioner Mason, charging them with violating the Lever act.

Warrants have been issued for 24 other alleged leaders in the insurgent railroad strike, it was said at the federal building.

Joseph Scott, trustee of the Chicago Yardenmen's Association; A. W. Caseday, secretary; Martin J. Kenney, vice president of Lodge No. 2, C. Y. A.; W. Larrabee, trustee of the association; Fred L. Schultz, vice president of the United Enginemen's Association; and Michael Eligas, treasurer of the Enginemen's Association.

Department of justice agents expect to arraign the men today before Commissioner Mason.

Among the 24 warrants issued was one for Elmer Bidwell, who was named yesterday by Attorney General Palmer as having replaced Grunau as leader of the strikers here. Both Bidwell and Grunau deny that the latter has been displaced or that Bidwell is taking any part in directing the strike.

Arrest President Grunau.

Federal agents raided a strike meeting at headquarters of the yardmen's association and arrested Grunau, who was speaking. He was taken to the federal building, together with William D. Reading, J. C. Logan, and Shannon Jones, who are said to be members of the Association.

Deputies sent to Carpenter's hall found James H. Dodgion addressing a meeting of 150 strikers. They arrested Dodgion, Fred C. Lockwood, H. E. Creighton and Michael Platke. Reports at the federal building indicate list of thirty for whom warrants already have been issued is only a starter, and that more than 200 members of the "outlaw" unions are marked for arrest.

Held Under $10,000 Bonds.

The prisoners were taken before Commissioner Mason at the federal building and held under $10,000 bonds for hearing. They were charged with conspiracy to violate the provisions of the Lever act.

Federal agents who culled the crowd at Conway Hall, where Grunau was arrested took William L. Bond, R. D. Murphy and H. W. Radke to the federal building.

As the men left the building there were cries of "traitor, traitor" from the strikers. They accused newspaper men of pointing out the leaders to the federal men.

Corn Continued to Have Upward Trend

Chicago, April 15.—Corn continued to show an upward tendency in price today with lack of selling pressure and an outstanding feature. The absence of aggressiveness on the part of bears was ascribed mainly to strength in wheat values and to the demoralized railway traffic situation. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2¢ decline to 1/2¢ advance, with May 1.67 1/2 to 1.68 1/2 and July 1.60 1/2 to 1.61 1/2, were followed by material gains all around. Delays to material gains important firmness to oats. After opening 1/2¢ to 1/2¢ higher, including July at 86 1/2 to 86 3/4, the market continued to harden.

Provisions were dull but firm. Grain strength was the chief bullish factor. Subsequently brisk export demand for rye counted as an additional stimulus for the advance in the corn market. Except May delivery prices touched the highest point yet this season. The close was nervous 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ net higher with May 1.69 1/2 to 1.69 3/4 and July 1.63 1/2 to 1.63 3/4.

Goosep was current that provisions were the lowest priced of all food-stuffs and that semi-monthly stock report would show little if any accumulation during the last fortnight.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost only a few cents. Drugists also sell larger "Bayer" packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetate of Salicylic acid.

Grand Detour on C. T. B. Way Tours

All travelers recognize the attractive features of the personally conducted tour. The patron avoids all the uncertainties of rates and reservations, he escapes the bother of routes and schedules and he knows that the maintenance of the reputation of the tourist agency insures the best service procurable. In addition, are the many social and educational advantages of the organized party.

Motor tourists, using their cars, have usually lacked most of the features of the conducted tour but this loss has been partially compensated by the many conveniences not available in a public conveyance. They arrange the seating as they choose, they are not restricted on baggage and they may go swiftly or slowly or make stops to suit their own wishes.

Now comes the announcement of "The C. T. B. Way" in motor touring in which patrons may enjoy all the conveniences of their own cars combined with all of the advantages of a personally conducted trip. They use their own cars and do their own driving while every detail of the tour is carefully planned in advance by the Chicago Travel Bureau and a competent conductor helps in every way possible to make the trip a pleasant one. Tourists may speed or loiter along the route but all come together in the evening to exchange experiences, to attend entertainments or form congenial groups for a social time.

Fares paid by patrons of the C. T. B. Way include hotel rooms and meals; storage, gas and oil for cars; boat trips as scheduled; evening entertainments; services of the conductor; and the many incidental features of an all-expense tour. The patronage of those not owning automobiles is solicited for the purpose of helping to make up parties. Where extra seats are available, owners may reduce expense considerably by sharing car with others. Owners of garages may co-operate in organizing parties and in providing cars and drivers for tours.

All tours are arranged in circles and operated continuously during the season, thus enabling patrons to start from any point on a circle and return to the same point. Many towns and cities not located on the circles are included in feeder routes and residents may have all the advantages of the circle tours. Among the places of interest to be reached this summer are Starved Rock Grand Detour, Camp Grant, Keokuk, Dam, Seaside, Upper Mississippi, Devil's Lake, Wisconsin Dells, Lake Geneva, The Shadys, French Lick and Mammoth Cave. Schedules of circles including Chicago allow several days for sight-seeing in the city.

TO DISCUSS OCCUPATION
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, April 15.—(Havas)—The meeting of the supreme allied council at San Remo says the Echo De Paris, will give particular attention to the occupation of Frankfort. Italy, the newspaper says, will submit to the council a compromise agreement. The issue reached with Jugo-Slavia. Ratification of this agreement will be asked, it is said.

Proposals made by Luigi Luzatti, former Italian premier, by which international exchange rates might be stabilized, will also be brought before the meeting.

HAS "SOME H. C. OF L."
Sacramento, Cal.—Articles recently reprinted from the Sacramento Union of 69 years ago, when the paper was founded, show that clerks in California stores were being paid from $200 to $500 a month, that butter was $3 a pound, milk $1 a quart, and other prices in proportion.

Reprints from papers of 1866, however showed a big drop in prices. The Sacramento board of supervisors let contracts for purchase of milk at 20 cents a gallon and meat at 7 cents a pound.

COLLIE TO CARE FOR GIRL
San Francisco, Cal.—A half grown collie dog, humane workers here have learned, is being trained at Pleasanton, a town across the bay from San Francisco, to take care of a little girl who is gradually going blind. Little hope of the child retaining her sight is held, and it is believed that the dog will be able to lead her safely when she is no longer able to make her way about alone.

STRIKE LEADERS UNDER ARREST

On the Pacific coast today bore out assertions of Brotherhood and railroad officials that the insurgent railroad strike was dying out in these sections of the country and that traffic conditions were improved materially.

Strikers were reported to be returning to work in a number of cities and in Chicago, Brotherhood officials said the backbone of the strike was broken.

Many Vote to Return.
Switchmen employed in Chicago terminal of the Rock Island system, firemen and engineers on the Pennsylvania railroad and groups of strikers on the Soo line and other roads voted to end the walkout in Chicago and were returning to their jobs today. Freight conditions, the railroads announced, were being restored to nearly normal and embargoes were lifted by several roads.

The insurgent leaders, however, continued their claims that the position of the strikers remained unshaken and denied charges of Attorney General Palmer that radical influences were behind the strike.

Serious in Michigan.
In Michigan the industrial tie-up as a result of the strike continued serious, with the estimate that 150,000 workers, the largest number in Detroit, were idle. Additional passenger trains were cancelled by the Pere Marquette because of the coal shortage.

Reports from Ohio cities told of industrial plants, steel mills and coal mines closed at many centers, making 100,000 workers idle. Efforts to break the strike on all roads at Columbus were being made and members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors voted to exert their "best efforts" to persuade strikers to return to work.

Strikers in Toledo voted not to affiliate with the insurgent union and this was believed to have paved the way for a settlement of the walkout.

To Return at Cleveland.
Brotherhood officials announced at Cleveland that 500 men voted to return today and that all the strikers employed by the Erie railroad and 80 per cent of the employees in the Colinswood yard of the New York Central were at work.

Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen officers gave out a partial list of telegraphic reports received there naming more than fifty cities in which strikers had resumed work.

All switchmen on strike at Dayton were reported to have voted to go back today.

Overland Trains Move.
In the far west traffic was improved and overland passenger trains were again moving.

The strike in the vicinity of Spokane, Wash., virtually with the return to work last night of striking switchmen.

Strike leaders at Los Angeles predicted 300 car inspectors there would quit work if the railroad continued to recruit new switchmen.

Yards at San Bernardino, Barstow and Needles and Colton, Calif., were reported to be tied up but freight began to move through the southern Pacific yards at Bakersfield, Calif.

Mass meetings of strikers were called in Kansas by brotherhood chairmen. Railroad and brotherhood officials there announced that traffic conditions were improved.

Freight and express remained under a partial embargo in St. Louis but passenger service virtually was normal.

Strikers also were reported to have resumed work at Cheyenne, Wyo., and on the western division of the El Paso and Southern Railway, extending from El Paso to Tucson, Ariz.

IN PITTSBURGH DISTRICT.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Pittsburgh, Pa., April 15.—While passenger traffic in the Pittsburgh district was almost normal today, and making headway against the striking yardmen, the industrial situation continued to grow worse with scores of thousands of men out of employment because of the enforced idleness of mills and mines.

Strikers were the diversion of the afternoon.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY—

Moline Dispatch: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Richards, 417 Eighteenth street, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary today in the home, the affair having been a very quiet family one, although a number of friends called informally during the afternoon hours. The couple were showered with flowers and telegrams of congratulation and altogether it was a very happy occasion.

Henrietta Dixon and W. Richards were married April 10, 1860, in Dixon, Ill., and the venerable couple assert that it was a fine day and has been a fine day ever since. The bride is a granddaughter of John Dixon for whom the town of Dixon was named, and she was the first white child born in Dixon. The marriage was solemnized on a Monday morning and immediately after the ceremony the energetic young people started for California, going by way of New York. They went first to Albany, then down the Hudson to New York City, from which they took steamer for Aspinwall, now called Colon, where they took a train which crossed the Isthmus of Panama.

Mr. Richards had been in California for several years and on coming back to claim his bride he saw his first railroad, at Panama, Ill., on his return to Dixon. An interesting feature of the wedding trip and the train journey across the Isthmus of Panama was that the railroad fare across the isthmus, a distance of forty miles, was $25, with an additional charge of ten cents a pound for baggage. Their trip from Dixon to San Francisco took about six weeks—now one can go in less than six days.

From San Francisco Mr. and Mrs. Richards went into the mountains, where Mr. Richards became a gold miner. Here the young couple remained for eight years, after which they returned to Dixon, where they made their home for three years.

They came to Moline in 1871 and have ever since been one of the prominent families. Mr. Richards was traveling salesman for the Moline Scale company for many years, his territory limited on the east and west by the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and on the north and south by Canada and the Gulf of Mexico. He is still a traveling salesman but does not make his trips as regularly as in former years. They have for many years lived in the present home, surrounded by hosts of friends who will wish them many more years of happiness together.

Among the 60 guests greeted during the day was a niece of the honored couple, Mrs. E. E. Wingert, of this city.

S. S. L. ENTERTAINED—

The Service Star Legion entertained most delightfully on Wednesday evening in G. A. R. hall the members of the American Legion. About one hundred participated in the happy affair, including thirty members of the American Legion. Mrs. W. E. Hartman, state president of the Service Star Legion, of Decatur, was present and made a delightful address, speaking in particular on Americanism. With Miss Missman as accompanist, Miss Lora Scott gave a beautiful vocal number and Miss Scott and Miss Marjorie Slothower rendered a very pleasing duet. Miss Scott responded to prolonged applause with an encore, "Springtime." At the close of Mrs. Hartman's address, Mrs. Tyrone Rosbrook, president of the local Service Star Legion, presented Mrs. Hartman, in a neatly worded talk, a Lee county souvenir spoon. Ice cream and cake were served at the close of the program and the evening closed after a very pleasant social time. Bouquets of pink and white carnations and baskets of flowers, presented by C. H. Fallstrom, were used in the hall decorations. For these the Legion wishes to thank Mr. Fallstrom. The members of the Legion also wish to express their appreciation to the singers who so generously gave of their time to make the evening's program so delightful.

G. A. R. CIRCLE, ATTENTION—

Ladies of the G. A. R., Dixon Circle No. 73, will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at G. A. R. hall to attend the memorial tree planting by the Service Star Legion in the court house yard in response to an invitation from the Legion. All members are urged to attend.

By Order of the President.

W. C. T. U. MEETING—

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. A. N. Richardson, 1009 Third street Friday at 2:30 p. m. All members and others interested are urged to attend. A good program will be given and a social hour will follow.

AT PARIS ISLAND—

David H. Law, Jr., is now at the Paris Island, S. C., U. S. M. C. Receiving Barracks.

M. E. HOME MISSIONARY—

The Home Missionary society of the Methodist church held its meeting on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. P. Armstrong, with the president, Mrs. Kirby Reed, presiding. Mrs. Reed was also in charge of the devotional service. Lois Keyes favored with a very enjoyable piano solo and encore. Very interesting clippings were read on missionary work and the subject of the afternoon, "Our Work Among the Colored People, or the Negro Question," was developed in instructive and entertaining fashion by Miss Morgan. Mrs. Lewis added to the interest by telling of a visit to the Adeleine Smith home for colored girls at Little Rock, Ark. The program closed with a vocal number, delightfully rendered by Evelyn Street. Miss Street responded to demands for an encore with a second enjoyable number.

Forty ladies were present at the meeting. Refreshments were enjoyed during the social hour which followed the program. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Caughey.

AT L. HEATON HOME—

About seventy-five relatives and friends gathered at the Leslie Heaton home Saturday night where they spent a most enjoyable evening in dancing and chatting and enjoying the delicious refreshments served. Those from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Nesson and daughter, of Clinton, Iowa; Mrs. Caroline Remmers of Grand Detour; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fisher and daughter, of Franklin Grove; Arthur Clayton and Jas. Reid, of Lee Center.

M. E. CHOIRS—

The members of the Junior choir of the Methodist church are requested to meet at the church on Friday afternoon following the tree-planting service by the Service Star Legion in the court house yard, or at about 4:30 o'clock. Every member is urged to be present to practice for the music of the Sunday evening service.

The Senior choir will not meet this evening because of the Men's class banquet but will meet on Friday evening at 7:30 at the church.

Sometimes when one is separating the white from the yolk of an egg just at the last minute the yolk will break on a sharp edge of the shell and a bit of the yellow go into the white.

Ever a tiny bit of yolk prevents the white from beating to a stiff and dry state.

A damp cloth will absorb the yolk and make the white perfectly beatable. Take a clean cloth, dip a corner of it in cold water, wring it, and dip it in the white of an egg to take up the yolk.

You may be able to save using a whole new egg which is quite an item.

FRANK O. LOWDEN

WOMAN AND HER WAYS.

Those courageous persons who with the approach of summer annually resume the endless campaign against women's fashions, deserve great credit for persistence in the face of three thousand years of failure.

Theirs is the one reform that never has succeeded though many good men from the prophet Isaiah to the preachers of our time have espoused it.

Was it not Isaiah who, protesting against the ways and the dress of the women of his day, said: "They walk with stretched forth necks, walking and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet?"

He denounced their "chains and the bracelets, and the mufflers; the bonnets, and the headbands, and the earrings; the rings and nose jewels; the changeable suits of apparel; and the mantles, and the wimples, and the crispings pins; the glasses, and the fine linen;
and the hoods, and the veils."

Passing up through the ages, one finds the eighteenth century Englishman, Oliver Goldsmith, protesting thus against the customs of the women of his age: "Most ladies here have two faces; one face to sleep in and another to show in company. The first is generally reserved for the husband and family at home; the other put on to please strangers abroad; the family face is often indifferent enough, but the outdoor one looks something better; this is always made at the dressing table where the complexion of the day is settled."

In three thousand years man has accomplished prodigies of social, moral, political and material reform. But when it comes to changing what is fashionable, he hasn't done a thing. Not a thing! And he never will!

NEW WORRIES.

Doctors now think imperfect teeth are a chief source of many ailments. It has come to seem nearly as dangerous to have teeth as once it seemed to have an appendix.

Each year those who worry have something new to worry about. As each new cause for concern comes to notice the previous worries are forgot. One year, it was thought dangerous to eat oysters. They gave one typhoid. Maybe they do yet. But few worry about it. The menace of ripe olives is a more fashionable worry in 1920.

Man is encompassed by perils.
Let him look at a street car conductor, and the conductor may sneeze.

Flu!

Man sits down to eat. A fly may have put its foot in his food. His glass of water is full of invisible wrigglers, one of which may cause his death. A dog may bite him in the leg. Or a brick may fall off a roof, and hit him on the head. He may trip over a doormat and break his neck. He may choke on a fish-bone. Or he may die of blood poisoning from biting his thumb while eating corn-on-the-cob.

The man who does not worry has all the best of it. There is no certainty that he will die sooner than the most cautious and fearing. Surely, he won't die more often!

"FIGGERS."

Next time you groan about the labor of an income tax statement or an inventory spend a moment in pity for the scientist whose work leads him to deal with duo-decillions.

A duodecillion is almost beyond the power of the human mind to appreciate. The round trip to the sun is 185,800,000 miles. If you made the trip every day it would take you 14,729,700,000,000,000,000,000,000-000 years to travel a duodecillion miles. Or if you had an income of $1,000,000 a second and you worked 24 hours a day with no time off for eating or sleeping in 352,331,022,041-828,731,333,333,333 years you would have a duodecillion dollars.

The figure is used in advanced astronomical calculations.

RAGGING 'EM

Consider the English "rag."
It has no synonym in the language of the United States. It means an uprising, usually by young men. "Ragging" is a national habit and there is none exempt.

If a man is disliked he is "ragged." Frequently the English show their admiration for a man by "ragging" him. The performance of the "rag" in either case, differs but slightly.

Pussyfoot Johnson was "ragged." He lost an eye as a result. It was said the "raggers" didn't like Pussyfoot.

Premier Asquith was "ragged" not long ago. His top hat was mashed about his ears and then stolen. The entire top of his automobile was crushed and the tires cut. It was said the "raggers" liked the premier very much.

The king was "ragged" a few days ago.
His majesty enjoyed the "rag." Regulations were waived in this case and the "rag" conducted at a respectful distance.

English papers do not miss an issue without an account of the "rag" of this man or that. It was a "rag" when parliament members poked fun at Lady Astor and a "rag" when striking railway men blackened the eyes of non-union workers who took their places.

OLD FRIENDS

What has become of "Ragged Dick," and
"Tom the Bootblack" and the rest of Horatio Alger's poor but honest boys without whom no public library was complete?

Inquiry at most public libraries will show that these boyhood friends of men who now are past thirty have been banished from the shelves and their places taken by young heroes who in the last quarter win football games when they are all but lost; or who do wonders with wireless machines; or who invent new-fangled airplanes.

Two generations of men treasure as cherished memories the long vacation days of boyhood passed in the inspiring company of Alger's tattered heroes who always made good. There were "Ragged Dick" who in the last chapter married the banker's daughter and lived in a brown-stone mansion on Fifth-av; and "Joe, the Peddler" who became the junior partner in the firm of the man whose daughter he rescued; and "Tom, the Bootblack," who by thrift and industry rose to fame and fortune; and a host of others.

Of all the new company of boy wonders who now fill the shelves of the children's rooms of public libraries which one will live so long in the minds of their admirers as the Alger boys who are off the shelves, but are held so fondly in memory?

THEN AND NOW.

Irv Cobb, the eminent humorist, tells how,
in the days of his callow youth, his favorite sport was playing hooky, and that now his greatest hobby is work.

Tell your little boy to clip and save this bit of information, suggesting to him that he pass it back to you the evening you come home and make the frivolous assertion that unless he studies hard at school he'll never amount to a row of pins.

JUST JOKING

SAD FATE OF A HAM

A young man entered the village shop and complained to the owner that a ham he had purchased there a few days before had proved not to be good.

"The ham is all right, sir," insisted the shopkeeper.
"No, it isn't," insisted the other. "It's bad!"
"How can that be," continued the shopkeeper, "when it was cured only last week?"

The young man reflected a moment, and then suggested:
"Maybe it's had a relapse."—London Lightly.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

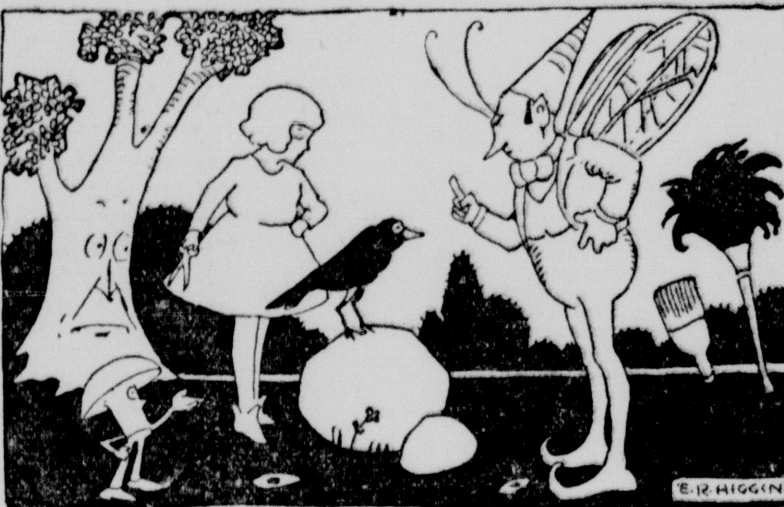

MR. CROW FLIES STRAIGHT

"Now, just see what you've done!" Mr. Crow scolded angrily, looking at his clipped wing, and then at Nancy's sharp little scissors, as though he should like to bite them.

"It's all your own fault," said Rubadub, the fairy man, hearing the fuss and coming over to see what was wrong. He didn't know exactly what had happened, but he knew Mr. Crow well enough to put the blame on him, whatever it was.

Mr. Crow flapped his crooked wings and sulked more than ever at that, but he was accustomed to making other people feel that they were responsible for his faults. He never thought of thanking Nick for tailoring his spring suit, but kept on scolding about the wing Nancy had clipped too short when he jumped.

"They say I fly straighter than all the other birds!" he fumed. "Didn't you ever hear anyone say, 'Straight as the crow flies'? And to have a reputation like that means something. I tell you, and I've tried to live up to it. But

"It's all your own fault," said Rubadub, the fairy man now I'll be going round and round in circles, because one wing can't go as fast as the other. I'll never come to Scrub-Up Land again to get my suit cleaned and pressed and my wings barbered. I'd rather look like an old raggedy tramp just so long as I can fly straight."

He went on and on, and everybody was at his wit's end and Nancy was just going to cry, when the Magical Mushroom, wise old fellow that he was, thought of something.

"Clip the other wing, too, Nancy," he said, "then Mr. Crow can fly straight again, although not so fast, perhaps, as usual."

And that's what Nancy did, and when Farmer Smith saw Mr. Crow coming he said, "That crow's getting so old he can scarcely flap his wings."

DON'T EXPOSE OTHERS

Children having whooping cough should not ride in street cars or other public conveyances, nor should they attend schools, movies, or other places of public assembly.

Well children should be taught that they must not come in close contact with children who "whoop" or cough. They should be thoroughly instructed as to the dangers of trading chewing gum, exchanging pencils, and the other means by which sputum may be transferred from one person to another.

The habit of spitting on the hands in playing baseball and of promiscuous kissing should also be discouraged.

If it is necessary that children having whooping cough should go upon the street, they should be accompanied by some one who will keep them away from other children.

The Virginia Health Bulletin suggests that the child with whooping cough wear a broad band of green ribbon on the arm for the purpose of warning others, and it is believed, some value.

Any disease which kills 10,000 children per annum is a serious one. If bubonic plague were to kill that many children in the United States in one year, the whole world would quarantine against our country.

A child dead of whooping cough is just as dead as a child dead from plague. The child whose body is weakened by disease is a potential economic loss to the nation. Whooping cough is a danger to be avoided and combated in the interest of humanity and the citizens of tomorrow. Do your share.

Q. Is adenoids the only cause there is of sleeping with open mouth, or are there other causes?

A. Adenoids is perhaps the most common cause, but the condition is brought about by anything which interferes with the free passage of air through the nostrils.

Q. Please give me a remedy for blackheads and pimples.

A. Pimples and blackheads constitute a very frequent skin disease, most often in young adults, the trouble being an inflammation of the oil glands of the skin and a blocking up of the outlet of these glands. The disease runs a chronic course and in the majority of cases, even when untreated, disappears as adult age is reached. There are, however, many exceptions to this, and it is not true, as some say, that all cases get well by the time 30 is passed.

When properly treated, the results are usually gratifying, but now and then cases are met with in which the disease is very obstinate despite skillful treatment. It is well to employ both systematic and local treatment.

In fact, the former is sometimes of more importance. Exercise in the open air, regular bathing, free action of the bowels, a nutritious diet these are important aids to success in treatment. As a rule, pork, veal, pastries, rich sauces and gravies and tea and coffee should be omitted.

When regular exercise and regulation of the diet do not relieve constipation laxatives may be needed. Cod liver oil has been recommended.

The local or external treatment is of essential importance in most cases of pimples. Powders, lotions and ointments, the composition of which must be governed by the conditions present, are all useful. In addition to this, attention must be paid to the cleansing of the skin, to friction and massage in order to improve the circulation, to expression of the contents of the blackheads, and to the proper use of antiseptics. In stubborn cases the application of X-rays is useful.

Q. I am troubled with rats. Can you tell me how to get rid of them?

A. If you will send me your name and address I will send you a printed bulletin giving full details. Address: INFORMATION EDITOR, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.

30 YEARS AGO IN
DIXON TELEGRAPH

W. T. Harrison purchased of J. M. Julien, George Stainbrook's lot in West Dixon for $225.

Mrs. Cecelia Murphy purchased five lots south of the Northwestern depot of Perce Cheney for $700.

The Ladies' Oakwood Ass'n. was formed, its object being the care of Oakwood cemetery.

R. C. Filson's elevator near the North Dixon depot was set afire by sparks from a passing engine, but the blaze was extinguished before it caused serious damage.

A. F. Wingert resigned as City Attorney and his brother, Edward, was appointed to succeed him.

TEN YEARS AGO IN
DIXON TELEGRAPH

Charles Curran, of Dixon, was injured severely while at work in a shoe factory at Elgin when his arm became entangled in a belt.

Manager Plein of the Family theater announced plans to widen the stage of the play house.

Range of the temperature for the day was between 80 and 50 degrees above zero.

LIFE

Lone Jack, Mo., has been having all kinds of tough luck. First the light plant blew up. And the people went back to coal-oil.

Then the driver of the only jitney bus quit, and everybody had to walk to the depot to see the train come in.

Then the only barber left town. And the men are growing whickers. Which doesn't tickle the ladies a little bit.

Then a frost came along and killed the fruit buds.

And the prettiest girl married and moved to St. Louis.

A city slicker happened in and stung half the population for their savings.

The other half had put their surplus dough in the town's only bank. And gosh all hemlocks!

A robber comes in and busts the bank.

"Blondes should wear brown, and brunets should attire themselves in yellow," advises a Chicago dress expert.

That leaves quite a range of colors for those who are neither blonde nor brunet, doesn't it?

Boils, while unpleasant, are not in themselves sufficient cause for divorce, decided Supreme Court Justice Lydon of New York, in refusing Mrs. Regina Straussman a divorce. Her husband hadn't told her, when they married, that he had boils, she alleged.

And like as not, some judge will decide that you can't divorce your wife because she has corns on her toes.

Judges are getting awfully strict.

Squire Abner Harpington believes when a man begins talking about the high cost of living he is paying the way for a loan, or going to ask for a raise.

The weather expert may guess wrong once in a while, and straw votes may not point the way always. But this is certain, just like death and taxes, when John Henry Stayathome talks about feeling bad today he's laying the foundation for a day off to-morrow.

Mrs. Susan Maria Littlehead would solve the cost of living problem by having everything charged.

Texas is a wonderfully optimistic state.

It has five cities each of which is "destined to become the largest city in the south."

Half of the hamlets claim they are "the world's second greatest inland cotton market."

And every village is "in the heart of the richest farming district in America."

"THAT CHE-ILD!"

Down in Kentucky they grow old as witnesseth the 131-year record of Uncle John Shell. Here is a story that reflects faithfully the state of mind these patriarchs must have:

Uncle William and Aunt Samantha are returning from the funeral of their youngest son, aged 61.

The venerable couple are walking along briskly, though their eyes are dim with tears.

"Samanthy," quavers Uncle William, "something always told me we'd never raise that child."

Confessions of a Bride
(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

"Stop! Stop!" I cried again and again, but I could not make my warning heard above the terrific blows which the two frantic men were battering down the door of my cell. It was horrible to think that I was descending farther and farther into a pit; with every quiver of that door, farther and farther away from a chance of rescue. It was horrible to realize that each fresh effort which Spence and Archer made in my behalf drove me closer to destruction!

The closet in which I was snared did not move evenly and smoothly like the cage of a modern elevator. I suppose that its peculiar mechanism was another triumph of those ancient masons, whose craftsmanship the engineer admired so much. It worked by sharp jerks. Each blow on the door joggled some nicely adjusted stone in the wall, it seemed to me, and swung the stone a little out of place. Then down went the cell in which I stood, with a notch and stopped. As a chain slips over the cog of a wheel and catches, as my cell dropped by inches—stopped—dropped—until I felt sure I would go mad with the terror of the experience.

I remembered with horror that it didn't make any difference whether the door was pounded from the inside or the outside! The quaint mechanism worked exactly, either way. Obviously, it had been invented to tantalize the prisoner; by its slowness and sureness, it prolonged the agony of the descent.

Even in the midst of my fright, I couldn't help wondering if the thing had been invented, as I imagined, for the punishment of erring nuns, condemned to death in that dreadful olden time when the harsh inquisitors ruled in Mexico. Surely, the device had been intended for use, and because it actually did exist I had to take it for granted that other prisoners had died—as I myself was about to die! Other girls had gone mad as I myself was doing!

I would know when I was quite mad, I told myself, because then I, too, would hammer—hammer—on the door to make it move faster and faster down—down—to what?

As one cherished for a surgical operation, I felt myself slipping into blackness; nevertheless, the comfort of complete oblivion was never quite realized. I remained vaguely conscious, uncomfortably aware that something frightful was in store for me. It was going to happen the minute Spence and Archer stopped pounding. Then I would be at the bottom of the pit. What awaited me there?

I hadn't lived a very long life, I told myself, in what I believed to be my last meditation on earth. I had lived through a short but an awfully crowded existence. Chapters of it swirled before me and each chapter flung off into some succeeding chapter of important adventure.

Life seemed to be just like a game of "crack the whip." I saw myself as a little child at the end of the "whip." I was "cracked off" time after time—and thrown into different groups of children. At last I had been "cracked off" into nothingness! That seemed very queer. Nothingness was, plainly, death!

The idea that I might die suddenly, unexpectedly, had always been a long way from my thoughts. Destiny had been kind to my clan. Not one of my line had ever come to a violent end by accident or murder.

Was I to be the first of my family to perish miserably? Or would the family luck hold for me?

It wouldn't unless I compelled it to hold, I warned myself. By a mighty effort of will I threw off the enveloping faintness and screamed again.

I thought that I heard a man's voice answering from somewhere below me. I thought it was my husband's voice! I knew that my imagination was deceiving me. I must be mad at last!

Archer and Spence would never stop battering at the wall until it gave way. How shocked, how horrified they would be to find that it opened into a pit!

I felt sorry for them. I felt sorry for myself because I had dreamed that Bob's voice had answered my shrieks!

GIVE 'EM AIR

Seedlings for your garden, if grown in hot-bed, or cold frame, should be given all the water they need. Sprinkling is better done in the morning than toward evening, when cool weather may do harm to moist plants.

Get the plants used to garden air by raising cover every warm morning, closing it again toward evening. Plants hardened to the air while still in the seedbox thrive better when transplanted to the garden. Thin out seedlings by transplanting to other part of seedbed, if they come up too thickly in any one spot.

WOOL GROWERS HEARD EXPERT DISCUSS SALE

Advantages of Co-operative Marketing Were Shown.

Mr. Booth of the National Warehouse & Storage Company of Chicago talked to Lee County wool growers at the Lee County Farm Bureau office a few days ago and discussed in detail the methods of handling cooperative wool shipments. A few points which Mr. Booth made are summarized as follows:

The 1919 wool growers of this country marketed through the National Wool Warehouse & Storage Company 15,000,000 pounds of wool. This Company was organized in 1909 by western wool growers. The object being to furnish a means of marketing their wool by pooling it in grades which would command the best price. The manufacturers usually want few grades, and of course, desire large quantities of the various grades when wanted. Eastern houses have practiced grading wool, and command the best price. Needless to say all grades are produced on the farm, and when sold just as produced cannot command the best price. Likewise local buyers must buy all wool and there is naturally a general price level. By grading many thousand pounds are put into commercial lots and needless to say the grading takes time in handling and caring for individual lots of wool. In 1919 there were 5,000 separate accounts, and each account had usually many different lots of grades of wool. Every detail must be kept with each account.

Mr. Booth was free to state that if a grower cannot wait for the returns he should not sell to co-operative buyers. Also poor wool gets a better local price in proportion than does good wool. This is partly true because the local buyers cannot discriminate between the lots of wool of different growers for fear that the lower priced wool will not be sold to him and the owners will resent a lower price and for this reason a general price is usually paid for all wool. Likewise burry and dirty wool is often sold to better advantage at home. The dirt and burrs, and twine in wool is a very expensive mixture causes considerable difference in price between that grade and good wool. Illinois marketed thru the National Wool Warehouse & Storage Company, 500,000 pounds of wool; Iowa 1,500,000 pounds of wool. Iowa is planning to market practically all of their clip this year cooperatively. Likewise, most Illinois communities are deciding to market cooperatively to a much greater extent than last year.

Explains Many Delays

The apparent delay in grading, selling, and shipment of wool to the mills was caused this year by many different factors. Some shipments were sent to the warehouse with practically no marking and no way of checking lots. Service both at the warehouse and the local points can be improved this year.

Each lot of wool is received, graded and placed in big piles for inspection and sale. Each man is credited with the amount of various grades and when final sale is made the shrinkage is prorated. Co-operative shipments are really taking the place of the speculator who buys wool, holds it and gets the margin. The farmer can afford to do this speculation on wool just as well as he does on grain, livestock or any other product of the farm.

The manufacturer does not buy all his supply of wool at once. They buy only as they need it. Some one must handle the surplus until wanted and the farmer can do that cheaper than anyone else and should be in position to take the profit on the increase in price. Needless to say that if all the wool produced was dumped on the market at one time, it would break and producers would be the only losers. It is also true that the commission man or speculator must also pay all the costs and even more than were paid by Lee County shippers last year. In other words, the grading, insurance, freight, interest and all the handling overhead, and so on, must be paid by some one. If the farmer gets his money at the time the wool is delivered the commission men or speculators have all the above items to pay, and without doubt every bit of this is added to the final price of wool with a handsome profit besides.

The farmer can afford to pay all of these expenses, and receive the increase in price because the farmer pays them all anyway, and if he does pay these expenses should be entitled to the profit. This is true of all the farmers' products, and is just as true of wool.

Buyers Want Quantity

The buyers for the manufacturers are naturally attracted by large quantities of wool, and for this reason the grading and pooling of wool should be one which adds profit to the selling of wool. There is also a premium paid for wool that is put up honestly in the various grades. They should be purchasable, and of reliable quality, and the National Wool Warehouse Storage Company has a reputation for doing this kind of work. In fact a great deal of wool is bought by samples and is never inspected. This is one reason why 1,000,000 pounds of wool has been handled and only 50,000 pounds of 1/4 blood wool was actually inspected and handled by the manufacturers. All other lots were bought and packed without inspection as they were graded by the warehouse company.

Mr. Booth laid special emphasis on the fact that binder twine should never be used in tying wool and that no binder twine wool would pass without a reduction in grade, since it was discounted very severely on the market. After this a pile will be made for wool that is tied with binder twine, and this must sell at a less price.

Paper twine can be furnished at about 30c per pound, and is sufficient for tying about 40 fleeces one string to the fleece, and is long enough to tie once both ways. They do not recommend using a wool box, but tying the wool carefully with paper twine, once each way or twice each way. He also laid emphasis on the fact that there is no use in loading the fleeces with a lot of tags or other cheap wool, since no wool man will be fooled by so doing. There is also no advantage in shearing wet wool as it is apt to deteriorate and be worth less on the market.

There seems to be a great demand for fine wool at the present time. Before the war and during the war the demand was for coarse wool, and the future market may demand more of the coarse wools as has been the case heretofore.

About 20 wool growers of Lee County heard the talk by Mr. Booth and were much interested in his discussion on the method of handling cooperative shipments. These men seemed to be in favor of pooling their wool for 1920, and with the exception of a few men who shipped their wool cooperatively in 1919, there seems to have been general satisfaction.

The Farm Bureau has ordered a number of bags at 90c each and paper twine at 30c per pound and these will be furnished at cost to parties wishing to ship wool. Those interested in pooling their 1920 clip should get in touch with the Farm Bureau office at once.

Roger Sullivan to Be Buried Saturday

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, April 15.—Messages of sympathy from public officials and men prominent in public and political life throughout the country today poured into the home of Roger Sullivan, Democratic leader, who died here yesterday of bronchial pneumonia. Mr. Sullivan who was 59 years old, was a prominent figure in national and state political circles for 30 years and a commanding figure in several Democratic national conventions. It was Roger Sullivan who led the movement at the Baltimore convention in 1912 resulting in the nomination of Woodrow Wilson for the presidency.

Mr. Sullivan had been ill for several months and recently had returned to his home from Hot Springs, Ark.

Although Sullivan was "read out" of the Democratic party several times by William J. Bryan and condemned by his political enemies at home as a "boss" he held the democratic leadership in Illinois for some years. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning. Mr. Sullivan is survived by a widow and four children.

The city council was called in special session today to pass a resolution of condolence.

"Gets-It" Stops Pain Instantly and Corn Soon Lifts Right Off.

A few drops of "Gets-It" quenches corn pains like water quenches fire. Gives you immediate relief.

"Gets-It" Feels It Out

The corn begins to lose its grip at once. In a day or two it is so loose that you can lift it off, roots and all, twist thumb and finger. That's the last of it, as millions have found. It is the simple, effective and common-sense way to be rid of corns.

"Gets-It" is the never-failing, guaranteed, money-back corn remover. Costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Sold in Dixon and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Rowland Bros. and Thomas Sullivan. 1511

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED--AND EARNED

GERRY'S SUCCESS.
CHAPTER 112.

I had been anxious to have the flat Robert spoke of for a long time. He was such a sociable soul, enjoyed both Frank and Carson so much, that it was partly on this account I desired to move. Then we had one more room, all the rooms were larger, and the apartment much more convenient in every way.

We moved the first of the following month. Jane and Betty were delighted to have us in the same building, and we planned many good times for the coming winter.

I was now doing on an average of four hours' work a day. That meant nearly $50 a week to add to what Robert was getting. And it in no way interfered with our home life. I can realize how it might have done so. Had I been very young, had a number of gay acquaintances who visited me or whom I wanted to be with, I can easily see how it might have been impossible to keep my home going as I did and work outside. Yet I had plenty of time for good, wholesome amusement, and enjoyed myself all the more because I shared all my pleasures with Robert.

I had taken great pains in fitting up our apartment, and had spent considerable to do so. Robert and I talked this over together.

"We will buy good things, substantial furniture, then it will last," he had declared, and I had agreed with him. But when it came to draperies, et cetera, I used my own ideas. When we were ready for our second housewarming I was perfectly satisfied with our comfortable and really artistic home.

Mary and Gardner came. Little Gerry, named for me, came, too. They were so happy, so perfectly satisfied with life and with each other that it was a treat to have them where one could look at them.

"I so busy I don't have a minute to myself since baby came," Mary declared. "If you had a baby, Gerry, I can see where we would all have to go to the shops for our hats just as we used to. Talk about making work! They are the greatest little work-makers in the world."

"Between the baby and her flowers I hardly knew I had a wife this summer," Gardner pretended to pout. Mary's flower garden had been famous, and as the baby had been born in the early spring, Gardner might have had cause to say he had little of her company.

"You liked the flowers, but of course you don't care for the baby!" Mary teased—"he made more fuss over little Gerry than Mary did."

We had a delightful time, and Robert was so happy, such a prideful host, that as I looked at him the words of our marriage ceremony came to me: "To cherish until death us do part."

Yes, that was it—to cherish. At first I had thought love once given lasted always—that one need do nothing to conserve it because it had been freely given. Now I knew that of all things in the world love needs the most cherishing if it is to be lasting love that brings happiness and contentment.

It also came to me that it was the woman's part to cherish as much or more than the man's. He would cherish her—take care of her, if possible—but she must not only cherish him, but his love, if she would keep it from straying.

I have said nothing about Marion Hovey because only once or twice in the last year had Robert visited her, then always at her invitation, and only when she made a plea for help.

"I couldn't refuse her, Gerry, although I hated to leave you alone. But they were very kind to me, and I would like to help Marion if I can," he had said the last time to her.

"It isn't the dinner now, then," I queried, smiling. I would not let him see how I hated to have him go.

"No, indeed! I get as good or better at home. Then here I have you besides."

My heart sang for joy. I had no more fears of Marion's influence. I had so cherished my husband's love that it would not stray, even Marion-wards.

Tomorrow—Gerry's Failure.

INDIGESTION Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach. There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—Bleeding, heartburn, bloating after eating, food repeating, sour, gassy stomach. There are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are nevertheless, traceable to an acid stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, rheumatism, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental ailments that keep the victims in miserable health year after year.

The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this.

One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with intestinal indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pains in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."

We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise. Your druggist has EATONIC. Get a big 50c box from him today. He will refund your money if you are not satisfied.

CIRCUIT JUDGE IS DEAD.

Bloomington, Ill., April 14.—Judge Sain Welty of the circuit court here died this noon at his residence following an illness of two weeks duration with a complication of diseases superinduced by an attack of heart trouble. He had been engaged in the trial of the case of the people vs. Edward Strause of Peoria, charged with the murder of Berne M. Mead of Peoria, when taken ill. A consultation of attorneys was taken a few days later to see if the trial could legally proceed with another judge and it was decided it would be necessary to await his recovery. His sudden death will greatly complicate matters pertaining to the trial and it is presumed a new case will have to be started. Judge Welty

NEWS FROM DIXON

The volley ballers were sure running true to form when they predicted some fast and furious games for Tuesday's match in the tournament. Altho both games went to the plow-makers the scores were close and there were scraps, arguments and debates all thru the contest. The radiators started out strong in both games and ran the score up to 8-1 in the first game and 7-1 in the second before the plowmakers got started but they couldn't keep the pace and the plowmakers caught up and passed them before the game was over. The radiators were handicapped by the absence of their skipper but Wheeler who acted as captain handled the team like a veteran. The scores were 15-12 and 15-13.

Plowmakers: Leland, capt., Potter, Lennon, Vezina, DerKinderen.

Radiators: Wheeler, capt., Poffinberger, Bates, Stearns, Kuhn.

Blank, Referee.

Schildberg, umpire.

Raymond, scorer.

Next week will close the tournament and the result is still in doubt as the Plowmakers and Radiators are tied for first place and do not play each other again. Each team has one more game to play the Radiators play the Sky Pilots Tuesday and the Plowmakers take on the Pillrollers Thursday.
